ADVENTURES

— TURNING — HOLIDAYS INTO ADVENTURES SINCE 1989

Bali's Longest-Established & Critically-Acclaimed Adventure Tour Operator

100% FAMILY OWNED & OPERATED

Welcome to Mason Adventures, we're proud to showcase our world-class experiences through a multitude of tours, activities and services which include the highest level of quality and value found across Bali.

Every tour is tied together by our fleet of GPS-monitored buses, every guest is insured, and in the unlikely case of a life-threatening medical emergency, is also covered by our exclusive helicopter medical evacuation service. With some of the friendliest and most qualified staff in the industry, we are Bali's safest, most efficient and eco-friendly adventure company, and you can always count on us for an unforgettable experience from start to finish.

From the humble beginnings of Yanie's Restaurant in 1985, when Australian Nigel Mason met his Balinese wife Yanie and set up their first business venture together, then kick started the island's adventure industry in 1989 by pioneering the first White Water Rafting & Kayaking operation. This was followed by Mountain Cycling and Tropical Trekking over the next few years, and in 1997 we rescued the first group of displaced critically-endangered Sumatran elephants and initiated the Mason Elephant Park and in 2009 the Mason Elephant Lodge. 2015 saw the launching of our Helicopter Sky Tours, followed by Jungle Buggies in 2017, and most recently the introduction of Mason Chocolates.

Asia's First Animal Welfare Certified Elephant Park

ELEPHANT PARK

Opened in 1997 and nestled within the hinterlands of Ubud, the Mason Elephant Park was created in response to the devastating situation in Sumatra where rampant deforestation and poaching has devastated the native elephant population. Our multi-award winning park is Bali's only dedicated elephant rescue facility and supports the island's largest herd of critically-endangered Sumatran elephants, where visitors have the rare opportunity to interact and learn, while giving the healthy herd a comfortable and safe environment to call home.

We're incredibly proud to be the first elephant camp in Asia to receive Gold Accreditation from the Asian Captive Elephants Standards (ACES), an animal welfare enterprise providing parks with the methodology to ensure elephants receive the highest level of care through a rigorous assessment process, conducted by an experienced team of specialists, veterinarians, researchers, and conservationists. ACES firmly believes that if done ethically, tourism can bring positive benefits to captive elephant populations and conservation, without compromising animal welfare or visitor safety.

Make some Big New Friends

Bali's Only True Elephant Rescue Facility

None of the elephants at our park were directly taken from the wild, but instead from the Sumatran government holding camps where they were captured and held as a result of the dire local situation, and typically had an average lifespan of only 3 – 7 years due to mistreatment and inadequate facilities. Within their new home in Bali, visitors can see that the elephants feel safe and at ease, as they interact with each other and guests while they continue to live a long and healthy life.

Since the beginning, our park has never adopted nor condoned the use of brutal training practices, as all methods simply use repetition, reward and patience, similar to common techniques used with your household dog or a horse. The park's successful breeding program has been a testament to our philosophy, naturally birthing a number of healthy babies over the years. Normally a difficult task for elephants in a captive setting, we feel privileged that it has been such a natural part of life for them here, and helps to ensure that this beautiful, critically-endangered species still has a future for generations to come.

Elephant Free Roam Area

Meet & Greet our Babies

Each elephant has developed a special bond of trust with their caretaker (mahout) that has been built up over a number of years. Visitors can see both elephants and mahouts going about their daily lives and interacting with each other. Each mahout is responsible for their elephant's health and well-being, and must monitor them closely for any signs of sickness or discomfort on a daily basis.

Every elephant has 24-hour veterinary care, regular health checkups, and a variety of other health benefits including such as immunizations, vitamin supplements, and a very well balanced diet.

Pampered Pachyderms

Enjoy & learn at our 140 seat theatre

Elephant Welfare & Care

The local residents of Taro district have wholeheartedly welcomed the elephants into their lives for more than 20 years, as the park employs over 90% of staff from the local surrounding area. The park receives no private donations or government funding, and by working closely together with the locals, the park is able to entirely self-fund itself through daily visitors to help ensure a sustainable future for the residents, both big and small.

ETHICAL ELEPHANT RIDES

It must be noted that here at the park we only use specially-designed lightweight teak wood chairs which are heavily padded and divert weight away from the elephant's spine for our elephant rides, causing no discomfort or injury to the elephant's back as well as no irritation to skin. Although this may come as a surprise for some, if done ethically, riding an elephant actually helps by providing the necessary exercise for its muscles, bone density, foot health and overall wellbeing, and the main cause of premature deaths for captive elephants in zoos are debilitating foot infections which are a direct result from the lack of stimulation and exercise.

An Unforgettable Family Experience

LANDSCAPED GARDENS & SCENIC WALKS

The location in central Bali is set within 4 hectares and was specifically chosen for its cooler climate and deeply tropical environment. This peaceful landscape is more akin to the elephants' native habitat in Sumatra and helps to keep them comfortable. Once an abandoned rice field, over the years the park has been carefully landscaped into a lush botanical setting with numerous koi ponds and hundreds of plant species, including one of the largest orchid collections on the island.

Visitors are always more than welcome to stay during the day for as long as they'd like, so we encourage every guest to take the time to discover, interact, and learn as much as they can about our park and Bali's largest herd of gentle giants.

Our Commitment to a SUSTAINABLE BALI

SUPPORTING LOCAL COMMUNITIES, ANIMALS & THE ENVIRONMENT

Beginning in the Ubud area way back in 1989, our philosophy was always to work as closely and harmoniously as possible with every Balinese community and every natural environment surrounding each one of our areas of operation. Today we employ a large local staff and have built up long-established relationships which have helped to ensure an ongoing sustainable future for every local village and area.

Our dedication over the years has seen us provide support across a multitude of channels. These have included numerous charities, fundraisers, conservation efforts, the local Hindu culture, as well as other environmental organisations and incentives, which includes our frequent rubbish collection and hazardous debris removal trips along the Ayung River and even planting over a million trees across Bali.

We've felt that a big part of our social responsibility involved being able to teach our staff to better understand their own responsibilities towards the proper long-term development of Bali. To be able to apply this logic to both their professional and personal lives, and to realistically assess the benefits and dangers that correspondingly come with the island's evolution, thereby helping to protect the future for their children, and the generations of Balinese to come.

BE CAREFUL WHAT YOU PAY FOR!

It might seem to some that cheaper is just the same, but sometimes cutting costs in Bali can only end in cutting enjoyment or even your holiday short. Unfortunately, the island has no regulated consumer protection, and visitors can easily be tricked by a smiling face with a false promise to be put on sub-standard tours that may potentially put them in danger. Freelance agents and drivers will often sell an experience that gives maximum commission for themselves, rather than maximum enjoyment, safety and value for their guests. Before booking any adventure tour, we strongly recommend to do the proper research and weigh the risks for yourself.
